CULTURE IN EDUCATION

Unesco's Education for the 21st century particularly the fourth pillar - "Learning to live Together".

- Learning to live together involves the development of social skills and values such as respect and concern for other, social and inter-personal skills and an appreciation of the diversity of the world.
- Four aspects to consider (how I see my COIL projects)

Major Opportunities for VE

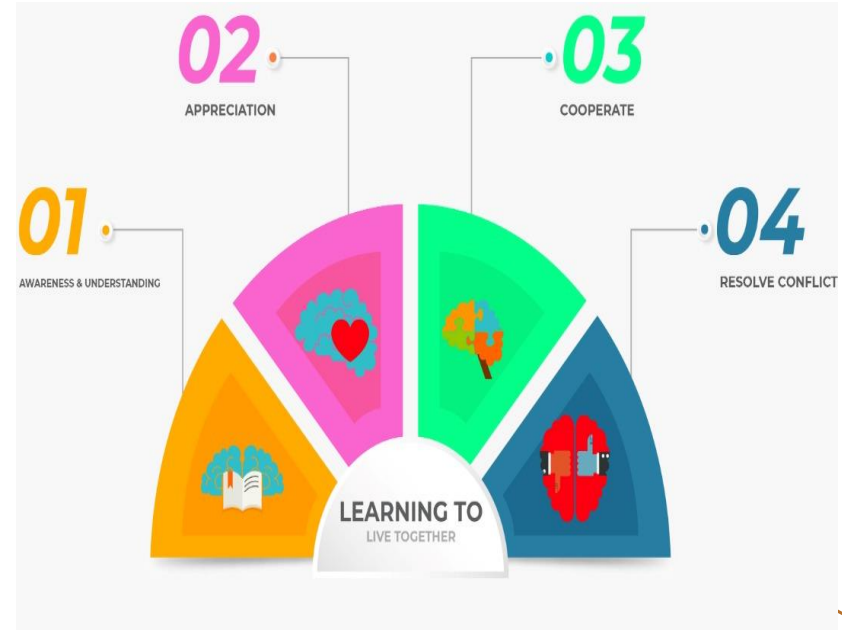

Educational Initiatives For Learning to Live Together

Educational Initiative	Nature of learning goals
Peace education	Conflict resolution peace, reconciliation, tolerance, respect for human rights, civic participation
