PREFACE BY RECTOR

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلاة والسلام على أشرف الأنبياء والمرسلين، سيدنا محمد وعلى آله وصحبه ومن تبعهم

بإحسان إلى يوم الدين.

السلام عليكم ورحمة الله وبركاته

Alhamdulillah, all praise be to Allah, The Most Gracious and The Most Merciful, peace and blessings be upon the Prophet Muhammad, and with Allah's blessings, mercy, and abundance, this is the sixth time the International Seminar on Halalan Thayyiban Products and Services 2023 (SAPPHAT 2023) have been organized by Universiti Islam Sultan Sharif Ali (UNISSA) through Halalan Thayyiban Research Centre and jointly co-organized with the Ministry of Religious Affairs in conjunction with Brunei Mid-Year Conference and Exhibition 2023 which supported by Ministry of Primary Resources and Tourism. The Standards and Metrology Institute for Islamic Countries (SMIIC) and Research Centre for Islamic History, Art and Culture (IRCICA) also co-hosted the seminar. This year the seminar collaborated with Universiti Sultan Zainal Abidin (UniSZA), Universitas Negeri Malang (UM), Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM), Prince of Songkla University (PSU), Management and Science University (MSU), Osaka University (OU), Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) and Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM).

SAPPHAT 2023 will focus on 'Enhancing Halal Sustainability through Maqasid Shariah'. With this theme, we hope to emphasize the importance of Maqasid Shariah in the halal industry, not only to maintain the integrity of halal products and services, but also to innovate, sustain, and transform it. The growth and improvement of the halal industry around the world have been a sign of the importance of the halalan thayyiban aspect in life globally. The increasing need for various services and halal thayyiban products has proven that the concept of halalan thayyiban can lead to universal benefits. We believe bridging the innovation gap between academics, industry, and the government is critical to ensuring that halal can be used to diversify Brunei Darussalam's income and propel the halal economy forward. As a result, SAPPHAT VI 2023 would be a fantastic place to raise awareness, network, and develop collaboration among the relevant stakeholders. We also hope that this seminar will serve as a springboard for further research into how to enhance halal sustainability through Maqasid Shariah, improve and promote our halal industry, as well as the required governance that must be in place to support it.

Many people have worked really hard to achieve the aims of this seminar. Special thanks go to the organising committee, reviewers and those who have contributed directly and indirectly to the success of this seminar. We would also want to thank all of the keynote speakers, invited speakers, and all presenters who contributed to the discourse. May Allah richly reward everyone for their great efforts.

وبالله التوفيق والهداية

والسلام عليكم ورحمة الله وبركاته

DR HAJI NORARFAN BIN HAJI ZAINAL

Rector of Universiti Islam Sultan Sharif Ali

Advisor for SAPPHAT 2023

Secretary of Brunei Mid-Year Conference and Exhibition 2023

FOREWORD FROM CHAIRPERSON

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Alhamdulillah, all praise be to Allah, The Most Gracious and The Most Merciful, peace and blessings be upon the Prophet Muhammad, and with Allah's blessings, mercy and abundance, this sixth International Seminar on Halalan Thayyiban Products and Services (SAPPHAT) was successfully organized.

It gives me great pleasure to welcome all of the SAPPHAT 2023 keynote speakers, invited speakers, presenters and participants. Indeed, it is an honour for us to conduct SAPPHAT 2023 which is jointly organized with the Ministry of Religious Affairs, co-hosted by the Standards and Metrology Institute for Islamic Countries (SMIIC) and Research Centre for Islamic History, Art and Culture (IRCICA), and in collaboration with Universiti Sultan Zainal Abidin (UniSZA), Universitas Negeri Malang (UM), Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM), Prince of Songkla University (PSU), Management and Science University (MSU), Osaka University (OU), Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) and Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia (USIM), in conjunction with the Brunei Mid-Year Conference and Exhibition (Brunei-MYCE) 2023 which is supported by Ministry of Primary Resources and Tourism.

The theme for the sixth SAPPHAT 'Enhancing Halal Sustainability through Maqasid Shariah' is very relevant to the present situation. The objectives of choosing this theme are to implement Maqasid Shariah in order to enhance the continuity of the halalan thayyiban concept in the halal industry; to emphasize the benefits of Maqasid Shariah; and to hold discussions in the development of the halal industry.

It is hoped that the SAPPHAT VI 2023 could provide a platform for important players from various backgrounds, views, and interests to cross-fertilize ideas and create synergy to enhance and strengthen the halal industry. Hopefully, with the implementation of this seminar, this seminar will be able to be a catalyst for all halal industry practitioners and entrepreneurs especially in the country to continue to strive and be resilient in improving the quality of halal thayyiban products and services.

It is envisaged that by sharing ideas and exchanging experiences, UNISSA will be able to realize its goal of expanding research in the Halalan Thayyiban field, which would be a great contribution to Brunei Darussalam and fully assist the realization of Wawasan Brunei 2035.

Finally, SAPPHAT VI 2023 would not be feasible without everyone's hard effort, dedication, coordination and cooperation in making this seminar a success. Thank you for devoting your significant time and efforts to bringing SAPPHAT VI 2023 a reality. Special appreciation also goes to all the speakers and participants for their support of this seminar. It is anticipated that we would learn something useful and that this knowledge will be blessed by Allah and become sadaqah jariah in the hereafter.

وبالله التوفيق والهداية والسلام عليكم ورحمة الله وبركاته

ABSTRACT

Environmental problems, including global warming and climate change widely acknowledged as one of the top global threats with far-reaching consequences. Despite the importance of decreasing CO<sub>2</sub> emissions or developing carbon-free energy sources, carbon sequestration should be a key issue since the amount of carbon dioxide that already exists in the atmosphere is great enough to cause global warming. Algae can fix carbon dioxide 10-50 times more than other terrestrial plants. It also has a rapid growth and multiplying rate much greater than higher plants. The study is aimed to explore algae characteristics and behaviour as potential ecological indicators and sequester agents for an unhealthy environment in an urban context. It was conducted by cultivating algae in controlled environments, which include different formulations, photoperiod and pH. Then, the selected species of algae will be evaluated and compared for their efficiency as potential carbon sequestration agents and lastly, to identify the colour changes of the algae that indicate the surrounding environment. These algae will be optimized and applied in landscape ecological design as phycoindicator and as a phycosequestration. Besides being a marker in creating a sustainable and ecological environment, it could help reduce the planet's natural impact by employing biological and sustainable initiatives that is aligned with the objectives of maqasid syariah. The principle of Al Darra Yuzal is very close to prevent all kind of harm in order to protect human live, wealth as well as future environment for next generation as what is being concluded in objectives of syariah.

ABSTRACT

The ginger family (Zingiberaceae) includes plants with a distinct smell and taste that are commonly used as spices in the kitchen, but also in a variety of industries (pharmaceutical, medical, and cosmetic) due to their demonstrated biological activity. This study describes the antibacterial activity of curcumin extracts from selected species of Zingiberaceae family namely “temu emas” (Curcuma zeodoria), “temu kunci” (Curcuma manga), “temu pauh” (Curcuma amada), “lempoyang” (Zingiber zerumbit) and “cekur” (Kaempferia galangal). Extracts of these compounds were studied on Staphylococcus aureus (ATCC 25923), Escherichia coli (ATCC 35218), Salmonella typhimurium (ATCC 14028), Candida albicans (ATCC 10231) and Aspergillus brasiliensis (ATCC 16404). Turbidity is taken as an indication of growth, thus the lowest concentration, which remains clear after macroscopic evaluation is taken as the minimum inhibitory concentration (MIC). In conclusion, amongst the studied members of Zingiberaceae, temu emas curcumin natural pigment extracts showed the best antibacterial activities against E. coli ATCC 35218 (2 µg / µL), S. typhimurium ATCC 14028 (2 µg / µL), C. albicans ATCC 10231 (2 µg / µL), A. brasiliensis ATCC 16404 (2 µg / µL) and S. aureus ATCC 25923 (3 µg / µL). The outcome of this research will contributing towards new natural carotenoid pigment sources as potential active pharmaceutical ingredients which can be beneficial to halal health-promoting products industry.
