Quote from Foreword

"This book, Criminal Law in Malaysia with its 31 chapters, is an excellent introductory text which comprehensively covers the major areas of criminal law. The table of contents is organised in a very appropriate fashion ... The chapters on Islamic criminal law and international criminal law are additional features which make this book go beyond an ordinary Criminal Law textbook."

From the Foreword by
Tun Arifin bin Zakaria
Former Chief Justice of Malaysia

About the Book

Criminal Law is a key area of the law which operates and continues to grow each day. There is no doubt that an up-to-date title such as this is very much needed today. Encompassing 31 chapters, Criminal Law in Malaysia provides an excellent coverage of the major areas of Criminal Law, both those within the ambit of the Penal Code and those covered by other independent statutes such as drug trafficking, money laundering, cyber crime, sedition and Islamic criminal law.

Setting out clearly the elements and scope of the many types of criminal offences and corresponding punishments imposed, this title is the go-to text for all students studying Criminal Law in the Malaysian curriculum. Written with easy comprehension as its foremost objective, the text affords quick mastery of this wide and complex area of law. Besides covering the substantive topics of Criminal Law, ancillary matters like abetment, joint liability, conspiracy, attempt and applicable defences are also considered. The inclusion of chapters on Islamic criminal law and International criminal law broadens the coverage of this book.
