

Contributors

Afroza Bulbul Afrin obtained her PhD in business administration from the International Islamic University Malaysia in 2018. Presently she is working as Associate Professor at the Department of Business Administration and Director of Research and Publications at International Open University, The Gambia. Afrin has published over 15 articles in international referred journals and has also authored six books. Her research areas include management, human resource development, operations, and quality management.

Khaliq Ahmad is Professor at International Institute of Islamic Thought and Civilization of International Islamic University Malaysia. Previously, he was Professor at Qassim University-AACSB Accredited College of Business and Economics (CBE), Buraidah, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. He obtained his PhD from Aligarh Muslim University, India. He was attached to International Islamic University Malaysia since 1993 as Deputy Dean, Research Management Centre, Director of Graduate School of Management (2005–2008), Dean, Kulliyah of Economics and Management Sciences (2008–2013), Dean, Office of Corporate Strategy (2013–2015). Founding President – ICIFE and former Dean, International Institute of Islamic Banking and Finance (IIiBF) (2015–2016) and during this period he steered IIiBF to be ranked world No.1 by QS ranking for Islamic Finance research and publications.

Selim Ahmed is Professor and Head of the Business School at World University of Bangladesh. He obtained his PhD in quality management from the International Islamic University Malaysia in 2016. His PhD research title was “Lean Six Sigma and Its Effect on Quality Performance in Malaysian Hospitals”. He has published several books, chapters, and many articles in top peer-reviewed journals. He is the Section Editor, Consulting Editor, Associate Editor, Article Editor, Guest Editor, Editorial Advisory Board Member, and reviewer for many peer-reviewed journals. His research areas include quality management, service management, healthcare management, organizational behavior, human resource management, and many others.

Shaharin Akter is currently pursuing her MBA in the Department of Banking and Insurance at the Faculty of Business Administration of the University of Chittagong, Bangladesh. She is highly passionate about research with a strong desire to learn more. Her current research interests include determinants of profitability, the banking and insurance sector, risk and efficiency measurement, sustainability, and blue economy.

Md. Saiful Alam is Associate Professor in the Department of Accounting and Information Systems, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. He obtained his PhD in management accounting from the University of Glasgow in 2018 for his thesis entitled 'Management Accounting and Control in Microfinance Operation - Three Papers'. His research interest lies in management accounting and control in developing countries, accounting and accountability of NGOs, Islamic accounting, and so on. He has published many book chapters and articles in the top tier peer-reviewed journals including Journal of Accounting & Organizational Change, Journal of Accounting in Emerging Economies, etc. He is a fellow member of the Institute of Cost and Management Accountants of Bangladesh.

Md Siddique E Azam is an accomplished PhD holder and an independent research scholar at the International Institute for Halal Research and Training (INHART), IIUM. He completed his MBA in January 2018 at IIUM as well. Previously, he pursued an MSc in agriculture education at SAU, Dhaka, Bangladesh and served for a public bank for more than four years. Throughout his academic career, he has been actively engaged in research and scholarly activities, including publishing articles and book chapters and presenting at international conferences. His research has been read by more than 35,000 readers on ResearchGate. He has been one of the co-authors of a textbook entitled "Halal Entrepreneurship". He emphasizes that Muslim entrepreneurs should receive action-civics education, which will provide them with the knowledge and skills to develop the economy as practicing Muslims.

Saaidal Razalli Azzuhri is a Sr. Lecturer at the Department of Computer Systems & Technology, Faculty of Science Computer & IT. He completed his PhD from the University of Queensland, Australia, specializing in the wireless ad-hoc routing protocol. In 2018, he managed to secure private funding to establish a Blockchain Technology Lab, the first Blockchain physical lab at Malaysian University. Other than that, he obtained a government grant for an Artificial Intelligence (AI) deep learning application in wireless communication and autonomous drone systems and a Newton Mobility grant (International Funding) for an optical microfiber application.

Melia Famiola got his bachelor's degree from Bogor Agricultural Institute, Bogor – Indonesia 1999. She continued her master's degree from Institute Teknologi Bandung in 2003 and her doctoral degree from Macquarie University, Sydney – Australia, in 2015. She is a lecturer and Assistant Entrepreneurship and Technology Management Interest Group professor. Her research interests include CSR, sustainable business, social entrepreneurship, and eco-preneurship.

Taufik Faturohman is currently lecturer at the School of Business and Management Institute of Technology Bandung (SBM ITB). He received a PhD in Economics and Finance from Curtin Business School, Curtin University of Technology Western Australia. The title of his dissertations is "An Examination of the Growth of Islamic Banking in Indonesia from 2003–2010". Taufik obtained his MBA from ITB, and graduated with honor (cum laude). He earned a bachelor's degree in materials engineering, also from ITB. His research interests are Islamic banking, Islamic finance, corporate finance, business risk management and economics.

Rodrigue Ancelot Harvey Fontaine was born in the UK and started his career in 1992 working for industry in Europe. He switched to academia in 1999. He completed his PhD in Cross-cultural Management from Multimedia University in Malaysia in 2004. Presently, he is Associate Professor in Management at the Department of Business Administration, International Islamic University Malaysia. He specialises in Islamic management, strategic management, and organizational behaviour. His research combines Islamic management principles with systems thinking. He has published over 30 articles in international referred journals. He has co-authored three books and authored two, all related to Islamic management.

Ahasanul Haque is Professor at the Department of Business Administration, International Islamic University Malaysia. He received his PhD in marketing from the Graduate School of Management, University Putra Malaysia, in 2001. Since 2017, he has been a professional chartered marketer with the Chartered Institute of Marketing in the United Kingdom. He has published over 200 research articles in international refereed journals, including those indexed by WOS, Scopus, Emerald, ABS, T&F, and ABDC, and over 150 conference proceedings as well as textbooks, book chapters, and study modules. He has received numerous academic awards, including outstanding researcher award, Emerald Literati award, and highest citation in an indexed journal. Aside from that, he has worked on various national and international research grants, as well as numerous consulting projects for the World Bank, Telekom, Z-consulting, and others. He is also the editor-in-chief and a member of the editorial board of numerous internationally indexed publications. Several institutes throughout the world have also recruited him as adjunct professor, visiting professor, and external assessor. His research interests include ethical marketing, digital marketing, tourism marketing, and consumer retail marketing and health tourism.

Khandakar Kamrul Hasan is Assistant Professor (Adjunct) in the Department of Business Administration at the European University of Bangladesh and Chairman of CMEP Foundation. He is an international doctoral scholar of the Department of Business Management at Tripura University (A Central University), Tripura, India. He has vast experience in the areas of education advising, organization administration, research, and academics.

Dewan Mahboob Hossain is currently working as Associate Professor in the Department of Accounting and Information Systems, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. He completed his undergraduate and Master's degrees from the Department of Accounting, University of Dhaka. He also completed a Master's degree in accounting from the University of Western Sydney, Australia. In 2017, he completed his PhD in Accounting from International Islamic University Malaysia. His teaching areas include auditing, forensic accounting, and strategic management. His research interests include corporate social responsibility and reporting, strategic management accounting, and sociology of work.

Mohammad Mainul Hossain is currently pursuing Master of Philosophy (MPhil) in the Department of Media and Communications Studies at the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences of University of Malaya, Malaysia. He is a dynamic and highly motivated student who has a strong passion, especially in the research area. His areas of research interest are social networking applications, journalism, digital communications, information systems, and information technology.

Sardar Md Humayun Kabir completed his Bachelor's degree in computer science and engineering from Ahsanullah University of Science and Technology in 2004. He obtained his MBA in marketing and international business from International Islamic University Chittagong (IIUC) in 2010. Recently, he completed his PhD from the Department of Business Administration of International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM).

Zaid bin Khaliq is currently doing PhD in Halal Industry at the International Institute for Halal Research and Training (INHART), International Islamic University Malaysia. He is a professional certified Halal Auditor from JAKIM Malaysia. He is currently working on his PhD thesis entitled "Conceptual framework of shariah training in Shariah compliant hospital Malaysia". His research areas include halal food industry consultancy, shariah hospital operations, hospital operations, and quality management.

Yuliani Dwi Lestari got her bachelor's degree from ITS, Surabaya, in 2004 and pursued a master's and doctoral degree at the National Taiwan University of Science and Technology, Taipei – Taiwan. Now, she is a lecturer at the School of Business and Management, Institute Teknologi Bandung (ITB), Indonesia. She is also the Director of Master and Doctor of Science in Management Programs (MSM-DSM) of the School of Business and Management, Institut Teknologi Bandung (SBM ITB). Her research interests involve operations management, logistics, and transportation.

Md. Golam Mohiuddin works as Professor at the Department of Management of Islamic University Kushtia, Bangladesh. Before this, he worked as Associate Professor at Universiti Teknologi Malaysia for three years. He is a prolific writer in the area of Islamic Management. Till date, he has published numerous articles and a number of books on Islamic Management. He is the Chief Editor of International Journal of Islamic Management and Business.

Mohd Sadiq Bin Mohd Mokhtar is currently a postgraduate student at Centre for Islamic Development Management Studies, Universiti Sains Malaysia. His PhD research topic is "The Model of Islamic Quality Management System for Non-Profit Islamic-Based Development Institution in Malaysia". His research covers various topics in Islamic management and particularly focuses on quality management, continuous improvement, and management of Islamic institutions. He has also published some journal articles which cover those particular topics.

Md. Abdul Momen has published many international refereed articles and book chapters with different publishers. Several of his papers are indexed in the web of science (SCI/SSCI), Scopus, ABDC, and other renowned bodies. As a researcher, he has also been working with different research grant agencies, such as the Ministry of Education Malaysia. He has also been working as a research trainer for different organizations, such as BCS Administration Academy, Bangladesh, Ministry of Industries, and Open University, Bangladesh.

Mohd Zulkifli Muhammad is currently Associate Professor of supply chain technology. He has published many articles in local and international refereed journals in the area of supply chain management, ICT management, and technology management. He has produced more than 20 postgraduate research students since 2006. He has been appointed to several administration positions internally and been referred by several universities and professional bodies, locally and internationally as external academic advisors, reviewer, expert panel, and consultant. Currently, he is one of editorial board member for Business Process Management Journal (Emerald Publishing), Operational and Supply Chain Management Journal, and Journal of Technology and Operations Management.

Rezbin Nahar obtained her PhD in Business Administration from International Islamic University Malaysia. Presently she is working as Associate Professor in the Department of Management and Human Resources Management at the Faculty of Business Administration of American International University Bangladesh (AIUB). She received distinction and awards for academic excellence. Throughout her career, Rezbin devoted herself into various research activities which have been published in the form of research articles in numerous scholarly journals and proceedings of national and international conferences. Her research interests are broadly concentrated within the field of human resources management, strategic management, higher education, and quality management contexts.

Fatima Kanis Nayan is currently pursuing her PhD in human resource management (HRM) at Greenwich University, UK, where she is also working as Graduate Research Assistant. Prior to this, she worked as Lecturer of HRM at North South University, Bangladesh and Nelson College, London, UK. She has worked in retail sector of UK as Customer Service Assistant and Wages Clerk for more than 15 years prior to her career as academician.

Azah Anir Norman is an associate professor and the Deputy Dean of Value Creation and Enterprise at the Faculty of Computer Science and Information Technology, University of Malaya (UM), Malaysia. She earned her undergraduate degree at Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) and her master's degree in electronic commerce security from Royal Holloway University of London in the UK in 2004. She completed her PhD from the University of Malaya (UM) in 2014. She specializes in information security management systems (ISMS), secure applications for ICT, privacy and human elements in security, information security governance, social platforms, and e-commerce security. She is also very interested in topics about Islamic ICT (such as Halal and Qur'an Authentication), Design Thinking, and Teaching and learning Innovations.

Muhammad Khalilur Rahman currently works in the Faculty of Entrepreneurship and Business at Universiti Malaysia Kelantan (UMK). He obtained his PhD in Operation Management from University of Malaya (UM). He has been actively involved in research activities and has published more than 55 articles and book chapters in leading service management journals. He has great interest in tourism and operation management research. He is a reviewer of Kybernetes, Journal of Hospitality and Tourism Insights, International Journal of Contemporary Hospitality Management, Journal of Islamic Marketing, and BMC Public Health.

Mohammad Moshir Rahman obtained his PhD from International Islamic University Malaysia. His PhD research comprised ecotourism marketing and sustainable tourism development. He completed his MBA in 2013 from the University of Dhaka and has started concentrating on academic trials. He has worked on research projects funded by Malaysian and international organizations. His research interest includes the area of social science, and he is incredibly passionate about tourism and hospitality, marketing, human resources, business studies, and sustainable management.

Md. Atiqur Rahman Sarker is currently teaching at East West University, Bangladesh as Assistant Professor. He has completed his PhD in human resource management in 2023 from International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). He also conducts corporate training in RMG sector of Bangladesh both as lead and co-trainer. He is enlisted as Master Trainer of International Labour Organization (ILO) specialized on Workplace Cooperation, Conflict Resolution, and Decent Work for Bangladesh Chapter. He has 15 years of training experiences in association with ILO, BGMEA, BKMEA, and BRAC in Bangladesh.

Role Sifa is currently pursuing Diploma in information, digital media, and technology from the Business and Information and Communication Technology Department of TasTAFE, Tasmania, Australia. She is an enthusiastic and self-motivated student in educational research. Her areas of research interest include digital communications, business, entrepreneurship, leadership, health science, and lifestyle.

Tahir Sufi is working as Professor at the School of Business and Economics of Universidad de las Américas, Puebla, Mexico. He has over two decades of work experience with leading academic Institutions and International Hotel brands like Le Meridian, Hilton and Best Western. He has PhD in business administration in the area of Hotel Classification System and is the author of Principles of Hotel Rating Systems – the first text book on the subject and is the author of over twenty national and international research publications.

Mohammad Talha is Associate Professor of accounting at Prince Mohamad bin Fahad University (PMU), Damam (Al-Khobar), Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. After obtaining his PhD from Aligarh Muslim University Aligarh, he was attached to Multimedia University since 2001 as Deputy Dean, Faculty of Management, Melacca.

Akrivi Vagena is Senior Faculty at Professional Training Institutes in Athens and teaches in the Departments of Tourism Administration and Hotel Studies. She has also taught at the Higher Technological Institute of Piraeus in the Department of Tourism Business Administration. She is a PhD candidate in the Department of Business Administration at the University of Patras, and her thesis is about creating a new model for hotel classification in star categories.

Gatot Yudoko got his BEng. in industrial engineering and Master of Transportation from Institut Teknologi Bandung (ITB) Indonesia in 1985 and 1990. He received his MSc in management science and PhD in planning from the University of Waterloo, Canada, in 2000 and 2003, respectively. He was appointed Associate Professor in Operations Strategy at SBM-ITB in 2011. His research interests include operations strategy, management, logistics and supply chain, and technology and industrial policy. He is a lecturer at the School of Business and Management, Institute Teknologi Bandung (ITB), Indonesia.

Suhaiza Zailani is Professor of supply chain at the Faculty of Business and Economics, Universiti Malaya. She received her MSc and PhD in management science from Lancaster University, England, United Kingdom, in 1995 and 1998, respectively. She has published more than 150 papers in various citation indexed journals on Operations Management, particularly in ISI-based and Scopus journals, for example, International Journal of Operations Management; International Journal of Production Economics; International Journal of Production Research; Supply Chain Management: An International Journal; Journal of Cleaner Production; Resource, Cycling and Reservation Journal; Sustainable Development; International Journal of Physical Distribution & Logistics Management; and International Journal of Logistics Management.