ABSTRACT

This research aims to explore the role of women in modern Malay narratives and the evolution of their portrayal over time. By examining selected works, it is observed that the representation of women in these tales has been influenced by various socio-cultural factors. The narratives often reflect the changing roles and expectations of women in society, which are closely tied to historical and political events.

INTRODUCTION

The importance of studying women’s role in modern Malay narratives cannot be overstated. This study aims to explore the evolution of women’s portrayal in these narratives, focusing on the role of women as depicted in selected works. The research highlights the changes in the representation of women in these narratives, which are closely linked to historical and political events. The study also examines the role of women in these narratives, focusing on the evolution of their portrayal over time.
