Islamic Banking and Finance Against Conventional

Edited by
Saim Kayadibi

IIUM Press
Islamic Banking and Finance
Against Conventional

Edited by
Saim Kayadibi

IUM Press
Contents

Preface......................................................................................................................... 6

Chapter 1 ......................................................................................................................... 8
Islamic banking and finance – an on-going underground war against the norm of Islam .............................................................................. 8

Chapter 2 ....................................................................................................................... 36
Conventional and Islamic Banking System in Malaysia ............................................ 36

Chapter 3 ....................................................................................................................... 57
Differences between Islamic Credit Card and Conventional Credit Card ............... 57

Chapter 4 ....................................................................................................................... 73
The Application of Credit Cards in Islam ................................................................. 73

Chapter 5 ....................................................................................................................... 85
Takaful As an Alternative to Conventional Insurance ............................................... 85

Chapter 6 ....................................................................................................................... 95
Malaysia Airline And Airasia Share-Swap Deal: In Islamic Perspective .................... 95

Chapter 7 ....................................................................................................................... 108
Concept of Zakat in a Broader Sense ...................................................................... 108

Chapter 8 ...................................................................................................................... 124
Islamic Bond (Sukuk) in the Contemporary Economic and Finance Life .............. 124

Chapter 9 ...................................................................................................................... 140
Wakalah and Multilevel Marketing (MLm) ............................................................ 140

Chapter 10 ................................................................................................................... 150
Tawarruq in Islamic Finance .................................................. 150
Chapter 11 .............................................................................. 157
The Legality Of Bay Bithaman Ajil And Its Issues ...................... 157
Chapter 12 .............................................................................. 173
Bay' Al-'Einah: View of Scholars And Specification On Malaysia Context ................................................................. 173
Chapter 13 .............................................................................. 186
The Contract of Sale: From The Perspective Of Buying Commodities Online ................................................................. 186
Chapter 14 .............................................................................. 206
Conventional Insurance: Is It Shariah Compliance? .................... 206
Bibliography ............................................................................. 218
Chapter 4

The Application of Credit Cards in Islam
Withaya Soheng, M. Fahrurrrizki Aulia and Saim Kayadibi

Introduction

The importance of credit cards in contemporary society and the need to use them is no doubt becomes a matter of necessity in many circumstances. Islam permits the use of credit card so long it does not involve the element of usury. As an example if the withdrawing cash advance from the credit facility will result payment of an interest, it is prohibited. Similarly if there is an additional interest charge due to delay in payment, it is prohibited also. Therefore, if the credit card serves as a charge card, where you only pay the principle amount that you use plus the service charges, it is permitted.

This paper will try to examine the application of credit cards in Islam. To show their importance, the paper first of all discusses about credit card and Islamic credit card, their advantages. It also analyses the Islamic credit cards issued by bank in Malaysia that their issuance rely on Bay Al Inah, the application of credit card which is widely used in Saudi Arabia and the Islamic credit cards using in Kuwait Finance House. We also include the verses and hadith regarding riba which is prohibited in Islam.

Credit Card

---

37 Graduate Student, Faculty of Economics and Management Sciences, International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM), Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.