Teacher Professionalism and Role Perception in Bangladesh

S. M. Abdul Quddus

IIUM Press
Teacher Professionalism and Role Perception in Bangladesh
TEACHER PROFESSIONALISM AND ROLE PERCEPTION IN BANGLADESH

S.M Abdul Quddus

IIUM Press
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgement  ix
List of abbreviation  xi

CHAPTER ONE: INTRODUCTION AND FRAMEWORK FOR ANALYSIS

1.1. Introduction  1
1.2. Objectives of the study  3
1.3. Research approach  4
1.4. Research problem/ research questions  5
1.5. Theoretical perspectives  8
1.6. Research method and data collection strategies  9
  1.6.1. Why two cases and make the comparison  12
  1.6.2. Documents  16
  1.6.3. Observation  16
  1.6.4. Conversation and interviews  17

CHAPTER TWO: PROFESSIONALISM AND TEACHER PROFESSIONALISM

2.1. Introduction  19
2.2. The theory of teacher professionalism  20
  2.2.1. What is professionalism?  20
  2.2.2. The professionalization of teachers  23
  2.2.3. Emerging definitions of teacher professionalism  25
  2.2.4. Four dimensions of teaching profession  27

CHAPTER THREE: MANAGEMENT AND DELIVERY OF BASIC EDUCATION

3.1. Introduction  39
3.2. Current educational priorities and concern  40
3.3. Types of education in Bangladesh  42
3.4. Management of primary education  43

vi
3.5. Salient aspects of primary education
3.5.1 The vision of the nation
3.5.2 The curriculum
3.5.3 School contact hour
3.5.4 Management and supervision
3.5.5 Pupil-teacher ratio
3.5.6 Physical condition and facilities
3.5.7 Teaching-learning process
3.5.8 Community involvement
3.5.9 Academic achievement
3.5.10 Quality primary education versus budgetary constrains
3.5.11 Equality in primary education
3.5.12 Teachers and their role performance

CHAPTER FOUR: TEACHERS’ ROLE PERCEPTION
4.1. Introduction
4.2. A Short sketch of the two study schools
   4.2.1. Bandar (Port) Naval Model primary school: a city school
   4.2.2. Laldiar char primary school: a rural primary school in an urban area
4.3. A comparative profiles of teachers in two study Schools
4.4. The response to the questionnaire/ analysis of data
4.5. Teachers’ perception of their role
4.6. Opinions of SMC members and guardians about teacher role
4.7. Students perception of teacher’s role

CHAPTER FIVE: SOCIO-ECONOMIC AND ADMINISTRATIVE CONDITIONS OF TEACHER
5.1. Introduction
5.2. Teaching practices
5.3. Professional development of teachers
5.4. Orientation to teaching role
CHAPTER SIX: DISCUSSION OF FINDINGS

6.1. Introduction 116
6.2. Private practice role orientation of teachers 116
6.3. Bureaucratic school culture correspondence to non-fulfilment of desired role of teachers 117
6.4. Transmissional approach to teaching 118
6.5. Restricted views on teachers’ role 119
6.6 Poor academic background of teachers 119
6.7 School catchment characteristics influence to attract qualified teacher 120
6.8 Teachers role correspondence to low commitment and morale 121
6.9 Primary teaching is a transitory profession 122
6.10 Teaching in primary school is a part time job and children from respectable families get care and service 122
6.11. Tuition shop: a symbol of status 123

CHAPTER SEVEN: CONCLUSION

7.1. Introduction 125
7.2. Dimensions of teaching profession 126
7.2.1. Orientation to teaching role 126
7.2.2. School culture 128
7.2.3. Pedagogy/teaching practice 130
7.3. Factors affecting de-professionalized role orientation of schoolteachers 134

REFERENCES 143
INDEX 150
APPENDIX 154