Studies in Ancient History and Archaeology

Ghassan Taha Yaseen
Chapter One
Settlement of the Hamrin Basin from Early Times to the End of Old Babylonian Period

- The Hamrin Basin
- Location
- Name
- Topography
- The Settlement
- The Early Settlements
- The Halaf Settlements
- The Ubaid and Uruk Settlements
- The Early Dynastic Settlements
- The Akkadian Settlements
- The Old Babylonian Settlements

Chapter Two
Old Babylonian Pottery Analysis, Tell Halawa, Hamrin/Iraq

- Pottery Analysis
- Fabric Surface Colour" and Hardness
- Surface Treatment
- Fillers
- Apparent Porosity
- Chemical Analysis
- Refiring Tests
- Painted Decoration
- Soil and Mudbrick Samples
- Calcium Carbonate (CaCO3) Content (Soil Samples)
- Suitability of Soils for Pottery Making (Soil Samples)
- Mineral Constituents (Soil Samples)
- Chemical Analysis (Soil and Mudbrick Samples)
- Firing Tests (Soil Samples)
- Laboratory Tests and Analytical Tables
- Ceramic Material (LTAT: A)
- Soil and Mudbrick Samples (LTAT: B)

Chapter Three
Cylinder Seals from Tell Halawa, Hamrin/Iraq

- Early Dynastic
- Akkadian
- Ur III – Old Babylonian
Chapter Four
Unpublished Terracotta Figurines in the Museum of Archaeology Department, Sana’a University, Yemen  133
  * General Description of the Terracotta Figurines  134
  * Seated female figurines in bent-knee position  136
  * Female figurines with scarves and hair bundles  137
  * Seated female figurines on seats  138
  * Seated female figurines with exaggerated buttocks  139
  * Seated female figurines with extended lower limbs  141
  * Standing male figurines  141
  * Human heads and faces  161
  * Artistic style and manufacture  142
  * Discussion and comparisons  145

Chapter Five
Terracotta Figurines from the National and Military Museums in Sana’a, Yemen  149
  * Group A - Standing females  150
  * Group B - Female heads and torsos  151
  * Group C - Seated females  152
  * Group D - Female human heads  153
  * Group E - Male figurines  153
  * The significance of the figurines  154

Index  175