Acknowledgement

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to Tahir Akyürek, Mayor of the Metropolitan Municipality of Konya, and Ercan Uslu, Head of the Cultural Department, for the active interest they took in this book in particular, and for providing facilities required for preparing this work and its publication. My sincere thanks go to Ass. Prof. Yakup Şafak whom I have been enlightened by his prosperity for four years during the attendance of his Mathnawi lessons. And particularly I am grateful to the SADAV (Social Researches and Solidarity Foundation) which organizes this Mathnawi lessons and its wonderful executives. Also my thanks go to those who have assisted directly or indirectly with their supports and motivation. I also owe my profound thanks to Dr. Saim Kayadibi who gave his great efforts to translate my work into English. Finally I appreciate Mehmet Birekul and all the staffs of the Head of the Cultural Department.

Life Skills Coaching is a professional field which has been increased fast. People are looking for ways that can be easily adoptable to the life, more practical and a short cut in their rapid life. In that respect enlightened coaches are providing job for individuals, practical changes in personal and social life.

Today athletes who are racing in Olympics have personal life coaches. Famous film stars, well-known artists, general managers, company owners, reach and successful people have also life coaches.

These people who are guiding the others are modern murshids (guides) of the modern century.

Since we are thinking according to the western method of thinking, since we are looking for things that we lost, we have to re-consider our choices for the sake of contribution to the peace and to systematize our own values. Let's leave the words to Mawlana Jalaaluddin Rûmî after the brief introduction

"You went away by yourself from God, have you found a way? Come to the way, do not get lost like a stupid."
