ZAKAT ADMINISTRATION: AN ANALYSIS OF THE PAST APPROACH

By: Tahir, IN (Tahir, Ibrahim Nuhu)^[1]; Oziev, G (Oziev, Gapur)^[1]

Document Type: Article

Abstract

Zakat is one of the five pillars of Islam and even though it is a system designed by Allah the Almighty, it has faced many challenges across the centuries in its implementation. The main objectives of zakat were well achieved during the early generations, from the time of the Prophet to the time of the Rightly Guided Caliphs. This success was a result of strict adherence to the text of Shari'ah which is supposed to be understood literally in this matter. However, this is not the case in our contemporary era where mismanagement of zakat occurs due to interference by those in authority and inappropriate ijihad which have become obstacles that hinder achievement of the zakat system objectives. The system is divinely revealed by Allah and this is proof of its perfection and accuracy and thus needs no modification or change. The paper focuses on certain key issues of concern in managing the collection, preservation and distribution of zakat. Unless these points are managed as prescribed by the Shari'ah, the zakat objectives cannot be achieved.
