

BEING HUMAN

RESPONDING TO CHANGES

NERAWI SEDU
NURAZZURA MOHAMAD DIAH
FAUZIAH FATHIL

Being Human

Responding to Changes

NERAWI SEDU
NURAZZURA MOHAMAD DIAH
FAUZIAH FATHIL

PARTRIDGE

Contents

Copyright © 2019 by Sedu, Mohamad Diah and Fathil

ISBN: Softcover 978-1-5437-4913-7
eBook 978-1-5437-4936-6

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be used or reproduced by any means, graphic, electronic, or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, taping or by any information storage retrieval system without the written permission of the author except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews.

Because of the dynamic nature of the Internet, any web addresses or links contained in this book may have changed since publication and may no longer be valid. The views expressed in this work are solely those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the views of the publisher, and the publisher hereby disclaims any responsibility for them.

Print information available on the last page.

To order additional copies of this book, contact

Toll Free 800 101 2657 (Singapore)

Toll Free 1 800 81 7340 (Malaysia)

orders.singapore@partridgepublishing.com

www.partridgepublishing.com/singapore

Introduction.....	vii
Notes on contributors.....	xi
Chapter 1 Men's Experiences in Female Dominated Professions in Pakistan: Do Men Really Ride the Escalator?.....	1
Chapter 2 YouTube-ing Islam to the World in the 21st Century.....	16
Chapter 3 An Analysis of The Meranao Political Culture in Lanao Del Sur, Philippines .....	34
Chapter 4 Smartphone Usage: How is Technology Affecting Your Health?.....	71
Chapter 5 Malay Native 'Self': Social and Cultural Identity Reconsidered .....	101
Chapter 6 Minority, Sports Activities, and Social Integration: A Tale from Malaysian Schools.....	128
Chapter 7 The Role and Contributions of Orang Asli in the Formation of Adat Perpatih .....	143

Notes on contributors

Abdul Malek Abdul Hamid is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Manufacturing and Materials Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, International Islamic University Malaysia. He received his BSc. in Industrial Engineering (minoring in Mathematics) at the University of New Haven, USA, his MSc. Ergonomics from Loughborough University, UK, and his PhD in Industrial Engineering and Operations Research from University of Massachusetts Amherst, USA. His research interests include ergonomics, human factors engineering, road safety, and healthcare system, and he has published a number of research works in these areas. Currently, he is the Executive Member of the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society Malaysia, and the Chair for Education and Training Division of the society. Besides the society, Dr. Hamid is involved in several consultancy projects in which he learned the practical sides of ergonomics and human factors engineering. He has taught ergonomics, human factors engineering, ergonomics automotive design, product design and development, production planning and controls, engineering management, mechanics of statics, and several mathematics courses such as statistics, probability, and calculus for both undergraduate and graduate programmes. Currently, Dr. Hamid is the Director of Ergonomics Laboratory at the International Islamic University Malaysia that focuses on manufacturing and automotive ergonomics as well as road safety research.

Baidruel Hairiel Abd Rahim is currently a PhD candidate at the Department of Sociology & Anthropology, KIRKHS, International Islamic University Malaysia. He is a recipient of Hadiyah Latihan Persekutuan (HLP) scholarship from the Ministry of Education (MOE) Malaysia. His major interests include sport and society, sport and education, physical education and sport science.

Farah Saeed works as a Visiting Lecturer in the Department of Sociology at the International Islamic University Islamabad. She recently completed her MSc in Sociology from the same university. Her research interests include gender, feminization of poverty, and migration.

Fauziah Fathil is currently a lecturer at the Department of History and Civilization, International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM), Malaysia. She obtained her BA degree (Human Sciences) from IIUM and later MA (History) and PhD (History) degrees from the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), University of London, United Kingdom. She has been teaching for more than 10 years in both undergraduate and postgraduate courses related to East Asian history, Malaysian history and Islamic history.

Jamel Rombo Cayamodin is a College Secretary at the Institute of Islamic Studies University of the Philippines Diliman, Quezon City. He obtained his PhD in Sociology & Anthropology (Political Behaviour) from International Islamic University Malaysia in 2013. He is a consultant at the Integrative Center for Alternative Development (ICAD) Foundation and a member of the Technical Committee on Islamic Studies Commission on Higher Education (CHED) in the Philippines. He is also the President of Philippine Madrasah Education Advocates (PhilMEA) Inc. He has published one book entitled Political Culture: An Analytical Study of the Meranao Political Culture in Lanao del Sur, Philippines with LAP Lambert Academic Publishing, Germany in 2013. He currently supervises postgraduate students.

Nerawi Sedu is a lecturer at the Department of Communication, Kulliyah of Islamic Revealed Knowledge and Human Sciences (KIRKHS), International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). He obtained his Doctor of Philosophy from the School of Journalism, University of Queensland Australia. He has been with the Department of Communication for more than eleven years. He teaches courses on media system, contemporary issues in communication, media ethics and intercultural communication in both undergraduate and postgraduate programmes. His research interests are media studies and journalism. He has presented research-based papers at a number of international conferences in Malaysia as well as abroad.

Nur Asmira Anuar started her education at Sekolah Kebangsaan Segu, Rantau, Negeri Sembilan from 1997 to 2002. She pursued her secondary education at Sekolah Kebangsaan King George V, Seremban from 2003 to 2007. She continued her higher education at Centre for Foundation Studies, later Bachelor degree and then Master degree in History and Civilizations at International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). Her area of interests include Malaysian history and Islamic civilization.

Nurazzura Mohamad Diah works at the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). She obtained her PhD from the University of Western Australia in Anthropology. Her research interests include women's health and well-being, health education among youth and the aborigines. Her teaching experience cover areas of introduction to anthropology, medical sociology and anthropology, social anthropology, group dynamics, population and society. Her postgraduate supervision has included projects on maternal healthcare, minority students' participation in sports, occupational preference among rural youth in Maldives, PWDs in entrepreneurship, essential oil usage in spas, beauty and cosmetics preferences.

Rabia Ali works as assistance professor at the Department of Sociology at the International Islamic University Islamabad. She holds a PhD from the University of New South Wales Sydney Australia. She has also served Abt Associates on their FDPLD Project and as an outreach advisor at Raabta Consultants, Islamabad. Her research interests include gender justice, globalization, sociology of children and youth, and sociology of education among others. Her recent book titled "Predicaments of Empowerment: Women's Experiences of Change from Northern Pakistan" explores changes in women's lives and their experiences of empowerment through ethnographic data. Some of the courses she teaches at PhD and MS levels include "Globalization: Issues and Debates", "Gender and Discourse", "Gender in the Global Scenario", "Contemporary Sociological Theories" and "Advance Research".

Rosila Bee Mohd Hussain is currently a senior lecturer attached to the Department of Anthropology and Sociology, University of Malaya, Malaysia. She has vast interests and expertise in cross-cultural study, identity, social inequality and youth culture. She is actively involved in conducting research and publishing articles in high impact journals and chapters in books. Besides that, Dr. Rosila also actively voices her opinion on social issues on television, newspapers and magazines. She hopes to conduct more research on these areas in the near future, including cross-cultural studies with other ethnic groups in or outside Malaysia.

Zaid Aqil Zainuddin obtained his BEng. Manufacturing (Honours) from the International Islamic University Malaysia in 2016. During the final year of his study, he received the 'Best Project' award from the department for his final year project in which he evaluated the effects of cellphone usage on users' health. Currently, Zainuddin is a research assistant at the Ergonomics Laboratory, International Islamic University Malaysia under the supervision of Dr. Malek Hamid.

Changes, whether technological or social or cultural, happen continuously in every society, and they change how members of the society live their lives. This book, which is research based, discusses how changes affect societies and individuals in terms of their practices and rituals as well as the way they view the world. It consists of seven chapters written by eleven authors with different educational background and academic disciplines. The writings in this book highlight how different communities in different countries (i.e., Malaysia, Pakistan, and Philippines) change and modify their traditional practices and worldviews in order to meet the technological and societal demands. This book is a good reading to those who are interested to understand humans' capability for change in preserving and sustaining their lifestyles and Weltanschauung in the ever changing and challenging world.

PARTRIDGE

