Viewing the World - Presence and Practice in Thought, Science, and Education

By: Fathi Hassan Malkawi

Abstract

The Arab and Islamic situation suffers from a complex crisis that is clearly manifested in the political, economic and social dimensions. It is, however, a mistake to ignore the intellectual and cultural dimension of this crisis, which is represented by our vision of ourselves and that of the world around us. The concept of viewing the world has become one of the concepts that explain the intellectual state of that situation that calls for studying that concept, concepts and terms directly related to it, and understanding its manifestations in other dimensions and fields.

Most researchers on the subject of viewing the world agree that the perceptions and beliefs that settle in the images of human cognition and behavior in an automatic way become common perceptions, extended horizontally between members of the society and express their identity and belonging, and may be inherited from generation to generation vertically, to express the continuity of this identity and that belonging of the society over the time. Although the use of this term began in the fields of philosophy,

IIIT Philippines Promotes Social Peace Through Integration of Knowledge (Part 3)

By: Dr. Alizaman D. Gamon and Dr. Mariam S. Tagoranao

Opinion

Dr. Alizaman Gamon

The first series of the workshop on Islamic Banking and Finance in the Philippines had brought the attention of Dato' Ahmad Tajudin Bin Abdul Rahman (Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Malaysian Islamic Economic Development Foundation (YaPEIM, among the pioneers who established Bank Islam Malaysia Berhad, Malaysia's first Islamic bank in 1983) to share his personal experience on Islamic banking with the Philippine participants who were mostly accountants, lawyers, academicians, businessmen, and professionals. Meanwhile, Attorney Arifa Alauya Ala (the Managing Director of the Financial Supervision Sub-sector (FSSs) III of the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas) was also invited to deliver a keynote lecture on the current development of Islamic Banking in the Philippines. Atty. Arifa presented the current government policies on Islamic banking in the Philippines, particularly in the BARMM region. While Dr. Acram Latip (Director, Institute for Peace Development and Management Mindanao State University, Marawi City) discussed the issues and challenges of the implementation of the approved government policies on Islamic banking in the Philippines.

The IIIT Philippines is indeed indebted to Dato' Jamil Osman for introducing Ahmad Tajudin Bin Abdul Rahman to the Muslim accountants and professionals in the Philippines, whereby a truly integrated approach of the Islamic banking system that delineates mere theoretical prepositions of Islamic banking into its practical application based on the religion and science, it has become a popular topic in the media, politics, education, literature, art, and so on; promoting the importance of studying the subject within the contemporary context. The author has endeavored to consolidate the concept of viewing the world with a Quranic reference, and to address the ways in which this concept is present, and the practices related to it in contemporary human thought, various fields of science, and education programs. ❖

International Webinar on Research Methodology from the Islamic Perspective

The Department of Usul al-Din and Comparative Religion, KIRKHS, International Islamic University Malaysia in Collaboration with Hamdard Islamicus (Pakistan) and International Institute for Muslim Unity (IIUM) organizes an international webinar in November 2021. The webinar was open for all to attend. ❖ interest-free market in a secular state-the Philippines.

The invited speakers had clarified many issues in the monetary and fiscal economics of Islam as original as well as sizeable, and certainly beneficial for every community. Based on the comments of the participants, it is implied that the scientific works of Muslim scholars in the field of Islamic banking is meant to educate people and potential partners that both Islamic economics and finance are not just an exercise in Muslim theology or fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) but a new and lively approach to the economic problems of man. ❖ To be continued...
