First of all, we wish to thank you very much for attending INTED2012. As you can check in the Program, we are in an ideal place to make new contacts and discover new horizons in Education.

The diversity is a strong point of this conference. Here, you will be able to discuss your projects and share your thoughts about Education and Technology with 600 delegates from 67 countries. This fact alone will bring you the opportunity to be an active part of a multicultural atmosphere.

You are invited to take the best profit of this and participate in the thematic sessions, poster sessions and social activities during these three days that have been expressly designed to provide you a unique networking platform during your experience at INTED2012.

We really hope that you will find in Valencia a city to enjoy, to walk and to discover in its different aspects.
