1. PURPOSE & OBJECTIVES

The primary aim of the IRep is to increase the research impact of the University and to provide feedback to the researchers, the University, and other stakeholders. The collection will be a digital repository of papers that contains research and scholarly output of the University across all subjects and disciplines. The collection will provide free, searchable access to research papers and make possible its long-term archiving and presentation.

2. DEFINITIONS, TERMS AND ACRONYMS

These definitions relate to this policy only.

3. POLICY SCOPE/COVERAGE

3.1 Authorized contributors

a. To be eligible to submit to the IRep, depositors must be IIUM staff or those appointed as researchers of IIUM at the time of publication, submission or reporting. Contributors may include researchers external to the University and IIUM adjunct appointments, if they are co-authoring with universities authors or are affiliated with the University at the time of publication. Other staff members can be designated as responsible for contributing work on behalf of others. Depositors will be required to declare that they hold the copyright of the material submitted.

b. The IIUM Library may search, compile and manage retrospective works of IIUM staff members and assist in inputting data in the repository.

3.2 Collection
a. Items which may be included are articles, book chapters, monographs, conference or workshop items, books, and patents.

b. Materials containing confidential information, unedited/unreviewed personal opinion outputs, non-academic/non-scholarly outputs, teaching materials, materials that are culturally sensitive, research students’ dissertations ad thesis, unrefereed draft papers or draft versions of papers released for discussion, administrative documents and records, including those associated with research projects, raw research data, materials intended for commercialization, and materials that would infringe a legal obligation of the author or the institutions that would infringe a legal right or a third party shall not be uploaded or included.

4. POLICY STATEMENT

4.1 IRep is a platform authorised by the University to manage the record and storage of the research outputs of IIUM staff as contributions to their discipline or as part of scholarly discourse. A significant proportion of this is intended for publication for the general purpose of recognition, impact and contribution to knowledge. Items which represent the publicly available research and scholarly output of the University are to be located in IRep.

4.2 Compliance
a. Uploading works to the IRep is the responsibility of the authors and researchers, as advised and supported by the Library. Items are to be submitted to the Library in the electronic format through the IRep website.

b. The Library reserves the right to deny access to; or remove the material from the IRep.

c. The Library reserves the right to alter the format of the deposited work.

4.3 Quality assurance
a. The Library is responsible for ensuring quality and compliance of submissions. All submissions will be assessed before they are made available. The Library also ensures compliance of submission with established metadata and cataloguing standards within IRep.
b. Materials in the collection will have a bearing on the reputation of the University, therefore the collection will contain material that satisfies certain criteria determined by the Library.

4.4 Editorial rights
The Library will retain the right to exclude any item submitted, make minor edits, return items for amendments, determine accessibility based on copyright agreements, convert files to commonly used formats, and add or edit metadata for cataloguing and indexing.

4.5 Copyright
a. The deposit of a work into the IRep does not transfer copyright to the International Islamic University Malaysia. Copyright owners retain the copyright for all content posted in the IRep. IRep specifies a non-exclusive right to use where copyright owner is free to reuse the content elsewhere.

b. Authors are encouraged to retain a copyright in their work where possible, and where a publisher insists on a transfer of copyright, to assert their right to deposit their work in the IRep. An author who is no longer the copyright owner will need to have the copyright holder’s permission to make their material available in IRep.

c. The validity and authenticity of the content of the work is the sole responsibility of the author. Responsibility for complying with the University’s copyright policies and procedures; any third party contract; copyright legislations and publishers’ right rest with the author and researcher.

d. The Library may assist in checking copyright and determining the copyright conditions on a case to case basis.

e. Copyright permission determines the availability of the version in the repository. The order of preference is for published, followed by post print (accepted version), and thereafter, metadata only.

4.6 Privacy and embargoes
The Library will adhere to any available restrictions laid down by the copyright holder, will acknowledge the rights of the copyright holder and will restrict access to materials upon request.

4.7 Access
a. The conditions for full-text access applies when:
   i. the author owns the copyright of a work and authorises deposit in the IIUM Repository; or
   ii. permission has been obtained from the copyright owner to deposit a work in the IRep; or
iii. the publisher as copyright owner allows a work to be held in the IIUM Repository.

b. IIUM may choose to restrict access to works, whether in part or in full, particularly if copyright permission is in doubt or unavailable; or the full work is not possible due to copyright restrictions. In such cases, a citation, abstract and descriptive information including a link to an alternative location such as the publisher’s version of the work, may be added in the repository and will be made available for external internet searches, to achieve maximum research visibility.

c. The access policy is summarized as below:

4.8 Preservation

a. All research outputs deposited will be retained even if the item cannot currently be made available, as a result of copyright and other restrictions, including embargoes.

b. The Library will try to ensure continuous readability and accessibility when a new format is necessary. The Library reserves the right to alter the format of the deposited work for the purposes of preservation.

c. Items may be deleted from the repository if there is a legal requirement to do so, or if it is deemed to be in its best interests.

d. In the event of the IRep being closed down, the repository will be transferred to another appropriate archive or format.

4.9 Accountability

The Library may guide contributors to complete their submissions and provide training as and when required.
4.10 Responsible parties
a. The Deans and Directors of the centres and institutions of the university will be responsible to ensure that the staff are aware of their obligations to submit their research output to the IRep.
b. The staff will be responsible to deposit materials into the IRep as soon as it becomes available. A hard copy is to be submitted to the Library for the purpose of long term preservation.
c. The Library will be responsible for the operation and management of the IRep in verifying online submissions, validating and enhancing associated metadata and ensuring that the research outputs are accurately displayed online.
d. The Library will be responsible for the technical management of the IRep. This include the installation, configuration, testing, maintenance of hardware and software, software design and development, and support.

5. IMPLEMENTATION AND COMPLIANCE

5.1 The Library holds the responsibility for the implementation of this policy and shall take the necessary actions in the event of violation of this policy.

5.2 This policy is applicable to the Library users and any infringement of the policy may be subjected to disciplinary actions and any other actions deem necessary.

6. MAINTENANCE OF POLICY

The Library is responsible for the formulation and maintenance of this policy.
